Southland Homes

901 . . . Family activities and outdoor living are attractive highspots of this garden view plan.

The outdoor living area can be planned as a patio or terrace, or it can be screened and jalousie windows can be included, if desired. Note the location of the modern, streamlined kitchen—a real wifesaver providing easy service to both dining area and family room. Another modern living feature is the snack bar which makes the family room a natural for informal entertaining or dining. Child supervision from the kitchen is simple, too.

Homes

Today's casual living trend was predominate in the planning of this three bedroom design. A large family room and patio or porch area form the indoor-outdoor living core of this home. Other features of interest are the kitchen with dining space . . . conveniently located to serve both family room and outdoor living area . . . a living room ideally situated for formal entertaining . . . and the bath and a half. Simple styling, window shutters, double doors at front entrance and a living room window bay combine to provide the distinctive exterior of this house.

The full bath, convenient to family room and bedrooms, features a double bowl vanity.

903 . . . Whether you choose this home in concrete block construction as illustrated on the cover or in frame construction as shown above, you can be sure of the maximum in comfort and convenience. One of the outstanding features of this design is the efficient traffic pattern—kitchen, laundry, bedrooms and living room are all easy to reach from any part of the house. Another good feature: generous closet and inside storage with additional storage space provided at the back of the carport.

Family activities and outdoor living are given precedent in this three bedroom plan with utility area in back of carport. Convenient to both kitchen and service entrance, this area includes storage, laundry and a lavatory—features which will appeal to the homemaker. The porch or patio area and family room adjacent to the kitchen also make this an ideal plan for the family with growing children. Attractive planter and shutters on either side of the front entrance combine to give a welcoming appearance to this house.

905 . . . An economy home, this three bedroom design conserves every possible square inch of space. Bathroom facilities have been carefully and skillfully fitted into a compact area and hall space has been kept to a minimum. Here are some other good features of this small home—an L-shaped kitchen boasting an efficient work triangle, dining area and an adjacent laundry and storage space. Although a patio is not included in this plan, the carport is an ideal spot for outdoor living.

Every homemaker with growing children will appreciate the many design-for-living features incorporated in this plan. In addition to the garden view dining and living room with adjacent outdoor living area, another point of interest is the kitchen and family room. A snack bar dividing the kitchen work area from the family room imparts an air of informality to this part of the house. Also note the location of the laundry and half bath—convenient to kitchen, family room and service entrance.

907 . . . Today's homemaker will appreciate the better living features included in this three bedroom design. Just a few steps from the kitchen and right in back of the carport is a handy storage and laundry area—a half bath, located near the back door, prevents needless traffic through the rest of the house. A service entrance from the laundry is another good feature. And now let's look at the exterior . . . it's a charming brick with a low pitch roof, wide overhang and a protected front porch the entire width of the plan.

This is a fairly large three bedroom house with highly efficient floor plan—bedrooms and bath in a cluster at one end of house, short hall space, unusually good circulation from room to room, living and work areas well separated from sleeping or quiet area and served by a separate lavatory near the service entrance. The family room adjacent to the kitchen and the large outdoor living area makes this a home ideally planned for a family with growing children. Laundry is convenient to but not a part of the kitchen.

909 . . . Compactly designed with a minimum of waste, this plan would be an excellent choice for a narrow or city lot. The family room and outdoor living area stress the importance of informal or casual living in this modern home. Being adjacent to the kitchen, the family room could be also pressed into service as a formal dining room whenever needed. The two service entrances are a decided advantage, too—circulation from room to room is more efficient—much cross traffic is eliminated. Three bedrooms and a bath and a half are well placed in the plan.

Simplicity of design is a striking feature of this home. To save space, this design has eliminated the breakfast nook in favor of a dining area open to the kitchen. The open planning of the living room and dining area, extending from front to rear of the house, creates an air of spaciousness. Sliding doors open the dining room to the patio or porch area—a pleasant combination of indoor-outdoor living. Separation of the master bedroom and a second bathroom from the two bedroom sleeping area is another good feature.

Wood paneling on the wall and the floor-to-ceiling fireplace in masonry make an excellent focal point in the living room.

911 . . . An unusual roof treatment and brick veneer with horizontal siding on the exterior gives this home its modern appearance. The compact plan is practical, too—three bedrooms in the sleeping wing are all convenient to the full bath—lavatory, close to rear entry, is a fine feature for the family with youngsters—there's space in the kitchen for automatic laundry—outdoor living area, accessible from kitchen and one bedroom, can be treated as a patio or screened porch. This can be the home for you!

Featured in full color on the cover of this book, here is a design that offers many interesting modern living features. Simply by adding a few feet of space at the rear of the garage, a handy storage and laundry area and a lavatory are provided—convenient to both garage and service entrances, but separated from the main living area of the plan. Other high points are the family room . . . this area can also double as a dining room for formal functions . . . and the up-to-date kitchen with its built-in oven and counter top range. A dining space is included in the kitchen for every day family serving.

OUR ACCURATE BLUEPRINT PLANS ASSURE HOME SATISFACTION

To thoroughly protect you and assure a complete understanding and agreement among all concerned with the building of your home, it is our policy to first "construct" our homes on paper. Thus every home design which appears in this book has been prepared and engineered by architects and technicians experienced in the home planning field. Whether you select a home of frame or masonry construction, nothing is left to chance. All of the essential information is shown accurately and all blueprint working drawings include the following: foundation plan; floor plan; front, rear and two side elevations; wall sections and other necessary details.

REVERSED PLANS

Perhaps your home should face the opposite direction. Obviously, a plan designed for a lot facing east will not result in the best exposure when your lot fronts the west. Therefore, plans of homes as illustrated in this book are available either as shown or reversed, as may be required.
